Quick Blogcast

Create, manage and promote your own blog and podcast. Post your stories, thoughts and ideas on your blog and invite readers to leave comments. Use our recording tool to create your own audio and video podcast and upload it to your blog to share with visitors. Publish and promote your podcast (and the blog it's hosted on) with automatic notifications to popular listing services including iTunes®, Feedburner and more. Whether you're writing your own personal journal or looking to influence audiences, this must-have blogging application is free with your domain purchase.

Domain Forwarding & Masking

Direct different WWW addresses to an existing site. When someone types your domain name into a browser, they will automatically be forwarded/redirected to whatever URL you choose. And with masking, users don't see the underlying address; only what they type.

100-Pack Email Forwarding

Set 100 variations on your basic "@domainname" e-mail address. That means you can automatically redirect e-mails to an existing account, keeping your main e-mail address private. A single mail box was never so flexible! Additional accounts and storage space available at an additional cost.

Auto Renew Protection

Keep your domain name secure by automatically renewing your registration. Never worry about forgetting to do it manually. You'll keep your domains, hosting, Web site builders and other products where they belong: in your name, in your account and under your control!

Total DNS Control

Manage your domain name server (DNS) records, set your email, FTP, sub-directories, web site location, and more. Our Domain Control Center makes it easy.

Change of Registration

Assign your domain name to another registrant, right online. You can change all four contact fields for the domain whenever you want.

Note: changes of registrant's name are not available for .UK names without a fee from the Registry.

Status Alerts

Monitor key status indicators to your domain and get instant alerts if there's any change. DomainAlert® Pro Backordering and other services available.

Domain Locking

Prevent anyone from making changes to your domain's vital ownership/administrative information. Domain Locking prevents unauthorized or accidental transfers, and stops anyone from misdirecting your name servers.

Search Engine Submission

V-Sound Productions will submit your web site address to dozens of search engines so people can find your web site.

24/7 Technical Support via e-mail, telephone and internet and much more!
